Read what people are saying about JUMA!

"Got milk?" Battle of the Bands:
"I'm excited to have found such a talented group. Lead singer, Michael Read, has the best rhythm and blues voice I have ever heard from a teenager. JUMA is one the best ever to compete on this tour, I'm excited about this band's future." -Mike Saperstein, Organizer of the "Got Milk?" Tour

State Fair of Virginia:
"JUMA presents a very fresh, polished and original sound . . . the surprise is that they are as young as they are. Solid rhythms, subtle instrumentation, soulful vocals and lyrics from the heart make you want to hear them again and again. JUMA's performance on the MusicFest Stage at the 2003 State Fair of Virginia was an exceptionally strong addition to the entertainment lineup.

-Sue Mullins, Entertainment Director for the State Fair of Virginia

Andy's of Ashland, VA:
"JUMA is the most awesome band I have heard. They have a unique sound that cannot be found anywhere else." - Donna Jackson
"JUMA is the best band ever to step foot in Andy's" -Clyde Jackson

Potter's Pub:

"Michael Read has one of the best voices and is a great entertainer. JUMA is one of the best bands to perform at the Pub." -2/20/2003

Are you looking for the right entertainers?

You have found them. Their name is JUMA

This high energy and talented group of young musicians delivers a fusion of rhythm and blues, reggae, acoustic, psychedelic, and classic rock; a riveting combination that will infuse any event with a mesmerizing, electric quality. JUMA is a dynamic blend of four young men – all from Hanover, Virginia.

For three years, JUMA has brought their music in regular performances to audiences at Alley Katz, Coffee Talk Café, Three Chopt Bar and Grill, Zin's Restaurant, Potter's Pub, Andy's, State Fair of Virginia and many other events including festivals and fundraisers around Richmond and central Virginia. JUMA won the Atlee hosted Battle of the Bands, judged by Fighting Gravity and local radio station XL102 and the "got milk?" MTV, Rolling Stones Magazine sponsored battle of the bands.

JUMA's sound is unique in its appeal to all age groups, combining traditional influences with modern sounds and sensibilities. JUMA brings vibrant vocals, throbbing bass, hot lead, and rhythm guitars together with strong drums, and even a harmonica to bring a crowd to life.

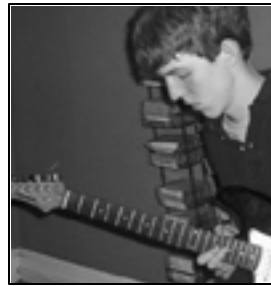

Soulful vocals and lyrics from the heart make you want to hear them again and again.

—Sue Mullins, Entertainment Director for the State Fair of Virginia

JUMA has been known to bring out guest musicians, including saxophone, keyboard, congas, flute, and trumpets to liven up performances. For smaller venues, JUMA plays intimate acoustic sets.

Since all the members were born on a Friday, the name JUMA – which in Swahili means, "born on a Friday," seemed a perfect fit. JUMA has independently produced two albums.
